4. Updates to Risk Factors

The following risk factors in the section of the Prospectus entitled "Factors that may affect the ability of the Issuers or the Guarantor to fulfil their obligations under Notes issued by the Issuers under the Programme–Risk factors that apply to the business of the BP Group" shall be deemed to be updated and supplemented as follows:

The last paragraph of the risk factor entitled "Geopolitical – exposure to a range of political developments and consequent changes to the operating and regulatory environment could cause business disruption" shall be deemed to be updated and replaced as follows:

Events in, or relating to, Russia and the conflict in Ukraine, including trade restrictions, international sanctions or any other actions taken by governmental authorities or other relevant persons, have had and could continue to have an impact on global energy supply and demand, market volatility and the prices of oil, gas and products. In February 2022, the BP Group announced that it would exit its shareholding in Rosneft and the BP Group's other businesses with Rosneft in Russia. Trade restrictions, international sanctions, Russian counter restrictions and sanctions and other actions taken by governmental authorities or other relevant persons are expected to continue to impact the BP Group's ability to exit those interests.

The last paragraph of the risk factor entitled "Liquidity, financial capacity and financials, including credit exposure – failure of the BP Group to work within its financial framework could impact the BP Group's ability to operate and result in financial loss" shall be deemed to be updated and replaced as follows:

An event such as a significant operational incident, legal proceedings or a geopolitical event in an area where the BP Group has significant activities, could reduce the BP Group's financial liquidity and its credit ratings. Credit rating downgrades could potentially increase financing costs and limit access to financing or engagement in the BP Group's trading activities on acceptable terms, which could put pressure on the BP Group's liquidity. Credit rating downgrades could also potentially require the BP Group to review its funding arrangements with the bp pension trustees. In the event of extended constraints on its ability to obtain financing, the BP Group could be required to reduce capital expenditure or increase asset disposals in order to provide additional liquidity.

The title of the risk factor: "Climate change and the transition to a lower carbon economy – developments in policy, law, regulation, technology and markets, including societal and investor sentiment, related to the issue of climate change could increase costs, reduce revenues, constrain the BP Group's operations and affect the BP Group's business plans and financial performance" shall be deemed to be updated and replaced with the following title:

Climate change and the transition to a lower carbon economy – developments in policy, law, regulation, technology and markets, including societal and investor sentiment, related to the issue of climate change and the transition to a lower carbon economy could increase costs, reduce revenues, constrain the BP Group's operations and affect the BP Group's business plans and financial performance

The risk factor entitled "Crisis management and business continuity – failure to address an incident effectively could potentially disrupt the BP Group's business" shall be deemed to be updated and replaced as follows:

The BP Group's reputation and business activities could be negatively impacted if it does not respond, or if it is perceived not to respond, in an appropriate manner to any major crisis.

The risk factor entitled "Security – hostile acts against the BP Group's employees and activities could cause harm to people and disrupt the BP Group's operations" shall be deemed to be updated and replaced as follows:

Acts of terrorism, piracy, sabotage, activism and similar activities directed against the BP Group's operations and facilities, pipelines, transportation or digital infrastructure could cause harm to people and severely disrupt operations. The BP Group's activities could also be severely affected by conflict, civil strife or political unrest.
