Section D – Risks
D.2	Key risks that are specific to the Issuer	There are a number of factors which could cause ANZBGL's actual results to differ, in some instances materially, from those anticipated. By investing in the Notes, an Investor is exposed to the risk that some or all of these factors could negatively affect ANZBGL and, in turn, negatively impact the value of the Notes. As a bank, ANZBGL's activities are exposed to a complex and varied set of risks. If any of these risks materialise, there is the potential they could adversely impact ANZBGL's business, operations and financial condition. The key risks inherent in ANZBGL's operations can be broadly grouped under the main categories of: capital adequacy risk (being the risk of loss arising from ANZBGL failing to maintain the level of capital required by prudential regulators and other key stakeholders (shareholders, debt investors, depositors, rating agencies) to support ANZBGL's consolidated operations and risk appetite); credit risk (being the risk of financial loss to ANZBGL resulting from a counterparty failing to fulfil its obligations, or from a decrease in credit quality of a counterparty resulting in a loss in value); market risk (stemming from ANZBGL's trading and balance sheet activities and being the risk to ANZBGL's earnings arising from changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, credit spreads, volatility, correlations or from fluctuations in bond, commodity or equity prices); liquidity and funding risk (being the risk that ANZBGL is unable to meet its payment obligations as they fall due, including repaying depositors or maturing wholesale debt, or that ANZBGL has insufficient capacity to fund increases in assets); operational risk (being the risk of loss to ANZBGL resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people

		and systems, or from external events, including legal risk and the risk of reputation loss, or damage arising from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems, but excluding strategic risk); compliance risk (being the probability and impact of an event that results in a failure to act in accordance with laws, regulations, industry standards and codes, internal policies and procedures and principles of good governance as applicable to ANZBGL's businesses); reputational risk (being the risk of loss caused by adverse perceptions of ANZBGL held by the public, shareholders, investors, regulators, or rating agencies that directly or indirectly impact earnings, capital adequacy or value); insurance risk (being the risk to ANZBGL of unexpected losses resulting from worse than expected claims experience (variation in timing and amount of insurance claims due to incidence or non-incidence of death, sickness, disability or general insurance claims) and includes inadequate or inappropriate underwriting, claims management, reserving, insurance concentrations, reinsurance management, product design and pricing which will expose an insurer to financial loss and the consequent inability to meet its liabilities); reinsurance risk (being the risk to ANZBGL that a reinsurer fails to meet their contractual obligations, i.e. to pay reinsurance claims when due); and strategic risk (being the risk that affects or is created by ANZBGL's business strategy and strategic objectives). If any of these key risks actually occurs, ANZBGL's business, operations, financial condition or reputation could be materially adversely affected, with the result that the trading price of the Notes could decline and investors could lose all or part of their investment. Importantly, ANZBGL's risk profile at any point in time, including the probability and impact of certain risks occurring, is heavily influenced by (and invariably changes over time according to) prevailing general business, economic and market conditions in the major countries and regions in which ANZBGL operates or trades.
