BOSTON - January 23, 2024 - GE (NYSE:GE) announced results today for the fourth quarter ending December 31, 2023.

GE Chairman and CEO and GE Aerospace CEO H. Lawrence Culp, Jr. said, "2024 will be a momentous year as GE Aerospace and GE Vernova plan to launch as independent public companies in early April. Both companies will carry forward GE's commitment to innovation and continuous improvement, with even sharper focus on their vital, growing industries. They serve vast and valuable installed bases with enviable service franchises that keep them close to customers, day in and day out. I am proud of what our teams have accomplished and excited for our next chapter as GE Aerospace invents the future of flight and GE Vernova leads the energy transition."

Culp continued, "In 2023, our teams delivered an excellent year, more than tripling earnings and generating almost 70 percent more free cash flow. At GE Aerospace, we drove solid revenue and operating profit improvement in the fourth quarter and double-digit revenue, profit, and cash growth for the year, reflecting ongoing strength in Commercial Engines and Services. At GE Vernova, Renewable Energy and Power together delivered meaningfully better results, with double-digit revenue growth in the quarter and positive profit and free cash flow for the year. We expect further revenue, profit, and free cash flow growth for both GE Aerospace and GE Vernova in 2024."

GE Aerospace¹

- Delivered higher orders, revenue, and operating profit in the quarter. For the year, delivered double-digit growth in orders, revenue, operating profit, and cash due to commercial momentum and strength in services, which represent approximately 70 percent of revenue.
- Announced an order for 202 GE9X engines and spares by Emirates to power its upcoming fleet of Boeing 777X, bringing Emirates' total order for GE9X engines to 460.
- Named the GE Directors who will continue as members of GE Aerospace's Board of Directors, including two new additions with deep aerospace experience who joined in December.

GE Vernova

- Renewable Energy and Power drove double-digit revenue growth in the quarter. For the year, together they delivered strong revenue growth, operating profit improvement of over $1 billion, and positive free cash flow, with services representing approximately 65 percent of backlog.
- Secured 2.4 GW order to support Pattern Energy's SunZia wind project in New Mexico-expected to be the largest wind project in U.S. history-with 674 onshore wind turbines and a long-term services award.
- Reached key milestones toward its spin-off, including naming its Board of Directors, filing its Form 10 registration statement on a confidential basis, and achieving operational readiness.

* Non-GAAP Financial Measure

¹Following the planned spin-off, in which GE will distribute the common stock of GE Vernova on a pro rata basis to holders of GE common stock, General Electric Company will be known as GE Aerospace. In current financial reporting and guidance, GE Aerospace refers to our existing reporting segment.

Total Company Results

We present both GAAP and non-GAAP financial measures to provide investors with additional information. We believe that providing these non-GAAP financial measures along with GAAP measures allows for increased comparability of our ongoing performance from period to period. Please see pages 8-11 for explanations of why we use these non-GAAP financial measures and the reconciliation to the most comparable GAAP financial measures.

In addition, GE:

- Received total proceeds of $2.0 billion in the quarter from the sale of its remaining AerCap shares. During 2023, GE monetized approximately $9 billion in proceeds from exiting its Baker Hughes and AerCap stakes and a portion of its GE HealthCare shares.
- Repurchased, under our $3 billion authorized repurchase program, approximately 2.2 million common shares for $0.3 billion in the fourth quarter, bringing the total common shares repurchased under the program in 2023 to approximately 10.6 million shares for $1.1 billion. In addition, the company redeemed all outstanding preferred stock for $5.8 billion during 2023.
- Incurred separation costs of $0.3 billion in the quarter and $1.0 billion for the year, primarily related to employees, establishing standalone functions and IT systems, and professional fees.

2024 Guidance

For the first quarter of 2024, GE expects to deliver high-single-digit revenue growth, adjusted EPS* of $0.60 to $0.65, and free cash flow* in line with net income growth.

For the full year, GE's 2024 guidance reflects GE Vernova and GE Aerospace operating independently, incorporating standalone and other costs that each will incur separately. GE Vernova expects to deliver revenue of $34 billion to $35 billion; adjusted EBITDA* margin of mid single digits, toward the higher end of the range; and free cash flow* of $0.7 billion to $1.1 billion. GE Aerospace expects adjusted revenue* to grow low double digits or more, operating profit* of $6.0 billion to $6.5 billion, and free cash flow* of greater than $5 billion.

GE Vernova and GE Aerospace will hold Investor Days in New York, NY, on Wednesday, March 6 and Thursday, March 7, 2024, respectively, where they will provide additional details on their outlooks. In addition, the businesses announced their planned quarterly earnings calls for 2024. GE Aerospace will host its calls on April 23, July 23, and October 22. GE Vernova will host its calls on April 25, July 24, and October 23.

Segment Profit/(Loss) Margin	18.8%	18.8%	0 bps	19.2%	18.3%	90 bps

Orders of $10.6 billion increased 10% on a reported and organic basis, with continued services strength and strong commercial engine orders. Revenues of $8.5 billion grew 12% on a reported and organic* basis, led by Commercial Engines and Services. Segment margin of 18.8% was flat on a reported basis and contracted (70) basis points organically*. Services volume and pricing, net of inflation, was offset by unfavorable equipment mix and investments.

For the year, orders of $38.1 billion were up 22% reported and organically. Revenues of $31.8 billion increased 22% reported and organically* with growth in all businesses. Segment margin of 19.2% expanded 90 basis points reported and 50 basis points organically*. Services growth and pricing, net of inflation, more than offset negative mix from higher equipment deliveries and increased investments. Free cash flow* of $5.7 billion was up approximately $800 million from earnings growth and working capital improvement. Overall, GE Aerospace is driving growth with robust demand & operational improvements, climbing even higher in 2024.

Segment Profit/(Loss) Margin	(8.2)%	(13.3)%	510 bps	(9.5)%	(17.3)%	780 bps

Orders of $5.1 billion increased 1% on a reported and organic basis, including the cancellation of a large Offshore Wind order originally booked in the second quarter of 2023. Excluding this cancellation, orders grew over 20%, led by stronger Onshore Wind equipment and repower. Revenues of $4.2 billion increased 23% reported and 19% organically* driven by Grid and Offshore Wind. Segment margin of (8.2)% improved by 510 basis points reported and 550 basis points organically*, with Onshore Wind and Grid both profitable again this quarter from better price and productivity, more than offsetting pressure at Offshore Wind.

For the year, orders of $22.6 billion were up 54% on a reported and organic basis. Revenues of $15.0 billion increased 16% reported and 17% organically* across Offshore Wind, Grid and Onshore Wind equipment. Segment margin of (9.5)% expanded 780 basis points reported and 920 basis points organically* with Onshore and Grid improvement more than offsetting Offshore Wind pressure. Grid achieved full-year profitability and Onshore Wind was profitable in the second half of 2023. Free cash flow* of ($1.5) billion improved by $585 million from better earnings and higher down payments. Overall, Renewable Energy's operational turnaround produced sizable improvement in 2023 with further acceleration expected in these businesses in 2024, supported by growing energy transition demand and continued price and productivity.

Orders of $5.7 billion grew 5% reported and 4% organically with double-digit services growth in Gas Power, while equipment orders declined due to our exit from Steam new builds, partially offset by higher Aeroderivatives. Revenues of $5.8 billion grew 15% reported and 12% organically*, driven by Gas Power with equipment revenue growth from both Aeroderivative and heavy-duty gas turbines, as well as strength in services due to higher contractual outages and upgrades. Segment margin of 13.1% contracted (70) basis points reported and (210) basis points organically*, driven by higher equipment volume.

For the year, orders of $18.5 billion were up 4% reported and 3% organically. Revenues of $17.7 billion increased 9% reported and 7% organically* driven by deliveries of 58 heavy-duty gas turbines including 14 HAs and strength in services, which was up mid-single digits, led by Gas Power. Segment margin of 8.2% expanded 70 basis points reported and 20 basis points organically*, with services strength, productivity and price more than offsetting inflation and higher equipment volume. Free cash flow* of $2.0 billion was up approximately 11%, demonstrating that Power is a strong and growing business, generating significant free cash flow* while innovating decarbonization technologies.

* Non-GAAP Financial Measure

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY
Financial Measures That Supplement GAAP

We believe that presenting non-GAAP financial measures provides management and investors useful measures to evaluate performance and trends of the total company and its businesses. This includes adjustments in recent periods to GAAP financial measures to increase period-to-period comparability following actions to strengthen our overall financial position and how we manage our business.

In addition, management recognizes that certain non-GAAP terms may be interpreted differently by other companies under different circumstances. In various sections of this report we have made reference to the following non-GAAP financial measures in describing our (1) revenues, specifically organic revenues by segment; organic revenues, (2) profit, specifically organic profit and profit margin by segment; Adjusted profit and profit margin; Adjusted organic profit and profit margin; Adjusted earnings (loss) and Adjusted earnings (loss) per share (EPS), (3) cash flows, specifically free cash flows (FCF), and (4) guidance, specifically first quarter 2024 Adjusted EPS, 2024 GE Vernova FCF, 2024 GE Aerospace adjusted operating profit and 2024 GE Aerospace FCF.

The reasons we use these non-GAAP financial measures and the reconciliations to their most directly comparable GAAP financial measures follow. Certain columns, rows or percentages within these reconciliations may not add or recalculate due to the use of rounded numbers. Totals and percentages presented are calculated from the underlying numbers in millions.

We believe that adjusting profit to exclude the effects of items that are not closely associated with ongoing operations provides management and investors with a meaningful measure that increases the period-to-period comparability. Gains (losses) and restructuring and other items are impacted by the timing and magnitude of gains associated with dispositions, and the timing and magnitude of costs associated with restructuring and other activities.

(a) Includes tax benefits available to offset the tax on gains (losses) on equity securities.

(b) Includes related tax valuation allowances.

Earnings-per-share amounts are computed independently. As a result, the sum of per-share amounts may not equal the total.

The service cost for our pension and other benefit plans are included in Adjusted earnings*, which represents the ongoing cost of providing pension benefits to our employees. The components of non-operating benefit costs are mainly driven by capital allocation decisions and market performance. We believe the retained cost in Adjusted earnings* provides management and investors a useful measure to evaluate the performance of the total company and increases period-to-period comparability. We also use Adjusted EPS* as a performance metric at the company level for our annual executive incentive plan for 2023.

Free cash flows (Non-GAAP)	$ 2,961	$ 3,338	(377)	$ 5,150	$ 3,059	2,092

We believe investors may find it useful to compare free cash flows* performance without the effects of CFOA related to our run-off Insurance business, separation cash expenditures, Corporate restructuring cash expenditures (associated with the separation-related program announced in October 2022) and taxes related to business sales. We believe this measure will better allow management and investors to evaluate the capacity of our operations to generate free cash flows.

2024 GUIDANCE: FIRST QUARTER 2024 ADJUSTED EPS (NON-GAAP)

We cannot provide a reconciliation of the differences between the non-GAAP expectations and corresponding GAAP measure for Adjusted EPS* in 2024 without unreasonable effort due to the uncertainty of timing of any gains or losses related to acquisitions & dispositions, the timing and magnitude of the financial impact related to the mark-to-market of our remaining investment in GE HealthCare and the timing and magnitude of restructuring expenses. Although we have attempted to estimate the amount of gains and restructuring charges for the purpose of explaining the probable significance of these components, this calculation involves a number of unknown variables, resulting in a GAAP range that we believe is too large and variable to be meaningful.

2024 GUIDANCE: GE VERNOVA 2024 FREE CASH FLOWS (FCF) (NON-GAAP)

CFOA (GAAP)	$1.5 - $1.9
Add: gross additions to property, plant and equipment and internal-use software	~(0.8)
Free cash flows (Non-GAAP)	$0.7 - $1.1

We believe investors may find it useful to compare free cash flows* performance including the effects of expenditures related to property, plant and equipment and internal-use software. We believe this measure will better allow management and investors to evaluate the amount of cash generated from our operations after reinvesting in the business.

2024 GUIDANCE: 2024 GE AEROSPACE OPERATING PROFIT (NON-GAAP)

We cannot provide a reconciliation of the differences between the non-GAAP expectations and corresponding GAAP measure for GE Aerospace operating profit* in 2024 without unreasonable effort due to the uncertainty of timing of any gains or losses related to acquisitions & dispositions, the timing and magnitude of the financial impact related to the mark-to-market of our remaining investment in GE HealthCare and the timing and magnitude of restructuring expenses. Although we have attempted to estimate the amount of gains and restructuring charges for the purpose of explaining the probable significance of these components, this calculation involves a number of unknown variables, resulting in a GAAP range that we believe is too large and variable to be meaningful.

2024 GUIDANCE: 2024 GE AEROSPACE FCF (NON-GAAP)

We cannot provide a reconciliation of the differences between the non-GAAP expectations and corresponding GAAP measure for GE Aerospace free cash flows* in 2024 without unreasonable effort due to the uncertainty of timing for separation related cash expenditures.

Caution Concerning Forward Looking Statements:

This release and certain of our other public communications and SEC filings may contain statements related to future, not past, events. These forward-looking statements often address our expected future business and financial performance and financial condition, and often contain words such as "expect," "anticipate," "intend," "plan," "believe," "seek," "see," "will," "would," "estimate," "forecast," "target," "preliminary," or "range." Forward-looking statements by their nature address matters that are, to different degrees, uncertain, such as statements about planned and potential transactions, including our plan to pursue a spin-off of our portfolio of energy businesses that are planned to be combined as GE Vernova; the impacts of macroeconomic and market conditions and volatility on our business operations, financial results and financial position and on the global supply chain and world economy; our expected financial performance, including cash flows, revenues, organic growth, margins, earnings and earnings per share; our credit ratings and outlooks; our funding and liquidity; our businesses' cost structures and plans to reduce costs; restructuring, goodwill impairment or other financial charges; or tax rates.

For us, particular areas where risks or uncertainties could cause our actual results to be materially different than those expressed in our forward-looking statements include:

- our success in executing planned and potential transactions, including our plan to pursue a spin-off of GE Vernova and sales or other dispositions of our remaining equity interest in GE HealthCare, the timing for such transactions, the ability to satisfy any applicable pre-conditions, and the expected proceeds, consideration and benefits to GE;
- changes in macroeconomic and market conditions and market volatility, including risk of recession, inflation, supply chain constraints or disruptions, interest rates, the value of securities and other financial assets (including our equity interest in GE HealthCare), oil, natural gas and other commodity prices and exchange rates, and the impact of such changes and volatility on our business operations, financial results and financial position;
- global economic trends, competition and geopolitical risks, including impacts from the ongoing conflict between Russia and Ukraine and the related sanctions and other measures and risks related to conflict in the Middle East, demand or supply shocks from events such as a major terrorist attack, natural disasters or actual or threatened public health pandemics or other emergencies, or an escalation of sanctions, tariffs or other trade tensions between the U.S. and China or other countries, and related impacts on our businesses' global supply chains and strategies;
- market developments or customer actions that may affect demand and the financial performance of major industries and customers we serve, such as demand for air travel and other commercial aviation sector dynamics; pricing, cost, volume and the timing of investment by customers or industry participants and other factors in renewable energy markets; conditions in key geographic markets; technology developments; and other shifts in the competitive landscape for our products and services;
- our capital allocation plans, including the timing and amount of dividends, share repurchases, acquisitions, organic investments, and other priorities;
- downgrades of our current short- and long-term credit ratings or ratings outlooks, or changes in rating application or methodology, and the related impact on our funding profile, costs, liquidity and competitive position;
- the amount and timing of our cash flows and earnings, which may be impacted by macroeconomic, customer, supplier, competitive, contractual and other dynamics and conditions;
- capital or liquidity needs associated with our run-off insurance operations and mortgage portfolio in Poland (Bank BPH), the amount and timing of any required future capital contributions and any strategic options that we may consider;
- operational execution and improvements by our businesses, including the success at our Renewable Energy business in improving product quality and fleet availability, executing on our product and project cost estimates and delivery schedule projections and other aspects of operational performance, as well as the performance of GE Aerospace amidst market growth and ramping newer product platforms;
- changes in law, regulation or policy that may affect our businesses, such as trade policy and tariffs, regulation and incentives related to climate change (including the impact of the Inflation Reduction Act and other policies), and the effects of tax law changes;

- our decisions about investments in research and development, and new products, services and platforms, and our ability to launch new products in a cost-effective manner;
- the impact of regulation and regulatory, investigative and legal proceedings and legal compliance risks, including the impact of shareholder and related lawsuits, Alstom, Bank BPH and other investigative and legal proceedings;
- the impact of actual or potential quality issues or failures of our products or third-party products with which our products are integrated, and related costs and reputational effects;
- the impact related to information technology, cybersecurity or data security breaches at GE or third parties; and
- the other factors that are described in the "Risk Factors" section of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2022, as such descriptions may be updated or amended in any future reports we file with the SEC.

These or other uncertainties may cause our actual future results to be materially different than those expressed in our forward-looking statements. We do not undertake to update our forward-looking statements. This document includes certain forward-looking projected financial information that is based on current estimates and forecasts. Actual results could differ materially.
